

Dr. Gerds is an Associate Professor of Medicine and Deputy Director for Clinical Research at the Cleveland Clinic Taussig Institute. He serves as the Medical Director of the Clinical Research Office for the Case Comprehensive Cancer Center. He is also the Editor-in-Chief of ASH Clinical News, and is the Chair of the NCCN MPN guidelines panel. Dr. Gerds' clinical and research interests focus on optimizing current treatments, and developing new therapies for patients with myeloproliferative disorders and other myeloid neoplasia.