

Sriram Yennu Short Bio

Dr. Sriram Yennu, MD, MS, FAAHPM is a Tenured Professor in the Department of Palliative Care, Rehabilitation, and Integrative Medicine at The University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center. He is an established physician, researcher, and educator. His research has been focused on developing therapeutic interventions for debilitating symptoms in advanced cancer patients including fatigue, sleep disturbances, pain, and cachexia. He has been a principal investigator of several randomized controlled trials, supported by research grants from various organizations including the National Institute of Health Department of Defense and American Cancer Society (ACS). He has more than 160 peer-reviewed and invited publications. His pivotal work was published in various journals including Journal of Clinical Oncology, Journal of American Medical Association, and Cancer. He was also awarded ACS Mentored Scholar Award 2005, ACS Research Scholar Award 2011, AAHPM Young Investigator Award in 2013 and as a Fellow of AAHPM in 2017, and The Steven M. Grunberg Memorial Award in 2024. Dr. Yennu has been instrumental in various supportive educational projects including, establishing the ECHO palliative care in Africa. Since 2005, he has served as the chair of the Annual Intensive Board Review Course in Hospice and Palliative Medicine and the Interdisciplinary Conference on Supportive Care, Hospice and Palliative Medicine at MD Anderson Cancer Center. He is currently the chair of the Geriatric Oncology Study Group at Multinational Association of Supportive care in Cancer.